Projektinformation

Titel:	Steps Ahead – Professionalisierung von Junior Coaches in Darstellenden Künsten und Medien
Projektnummer:	DE/12/LLP-LdV/TOI/147517
Jahr:	2012
Projekttyp:	Innovationstransfer
Status:	abgeschlossen
Land:	DE-Deutschland
Marketing Text:	In Schulen und Jugendeinrichtungen in nordwesteuropäischen Großstädten gibt es einen wachsenden Bedarf nach jungen urbanen Dozenten für Medien und darstellende Künste. Das birgt Chancen für eine wachsende Zahl junger darstellender Künstler und Medienmacher aus den multikulturellen Vierteln dieser Städte, die sich oft in prekären finanziellen Situationen befinden. Im Vorläuferprojekt „The ROOTS & ROUTES Academy“ haben wir eine Junior-Coach-Ausbildung entwickelt, deren Curriculum junge Künstler und Medienmacher mit grundlegenden Kenntnissen in Sachen Bildungsvermittlung und Selbstmanagement ausstattete. „Steps Ahead“ transferierte dieses Konzept in neue Länder und Settings und passte es an die dortigen Situationen an. Passgenau zu den Bedürfnissen junger Coaches wurde das Curriculum weiter entwickelt und enger mit dem Arbeitsmarkt verzahnt, unter Einbeziehung unternehmerischer Kompetenzen. „Testing Zones“ für Junior Coaches boten dabei Arbeitserfahrung unter Realbedingungen.
Zusammenfassung:	„Steps ahead” entwickelte Konzepte für non-formale berufliche Ausbildung junger Künstler und Medienmacher zu Coaches/ Juniordozenten in den Bereichen darstellende Künste und Medien. Dabei wurde ein in den Niederlanden und in Deutschland entwickeltes Curriculum nach Italien, Griechenland und Ungarn transferiert, dazu praxisbezogene Methoden aus Italien und Griechenland sowie ein Konzept für ein Beratungs- und Vermittlungsnetzwerk aus den Niederlanden in jeweils alle anderen Partnerländer. In ihrer jahrelangen Projektarbeit mit jungen Musikern, Tänzern und Filmemachern in non-formalen Settings haben jfc Medienzentrum (Köln) und Stichting ROOTS & ROUTES (Rotterdam) eine wachsende Nachfrage nach Juniordozenten in den Bereichen darstellende Künste und Medien festgestellt: Teilnehmende unserer Projekte wurden zunehmend in Ganztagsschulen und Jugendarbeitskontexten engagiert; etliche kamen mit den Anforderungen dieser Jobs nicht zurecht. Daher entwickelten wir im Projekt „The ROOTS & ROUTES Academy“ ein Curriculum für Junior Coaches mit Schwerpunkt auf pädagogischen Aspekten. Das Projekt war ein Erfolg; unsere Evaluation zeigte jedoch, dass Entrepreneurship dabei zu kurz kam; dass die ausgebildeten Junior Coaches Aufbau-Seminare brauchten, Chancen, ihre Skills unter Realbedingungen unter Beweis zu stellen, sowie zusätzliche Unterstützung, um bessere Verbindungen zum Arbeitsmarkt aufzubauen. Ziele des vorliegenden Projekts „Steps Ahead“ umfassten: • ein aktualisiertes Curriculum für die Professionalisierung junger Musik-, Tanz- und Mediencoaches zu entwickeln und in neue Partnerländer zu transferieren • weiterführende Trainingsseminare für Junior Coaches zu entwickeln, die unternehmerische, technische und sektorübergreifende Skills fördern • Entwicklung und Durchführung von „Testing Zones“: Begleitete Situationen, in denen sich junge Coaches mit ihren Skills und Methoden in der pädagogischen Praxis bewähren können • die Verbindungen junger urbaner Künstler und Medienmacher zum Arbeitsmarkt zu stärken • Förderung der europäischen Mobilität der Projektteilnehmenden
Beschreibung:	“Steps Ahead” startete mit einem Kick-off-Meeting, das alle Partnerorganisationen zusammenbrachte, um dann Fahrt aufzunehmen: Im Rahmen einer qualitativen Studie wurden zunächst Methoden für die Ausbildung von Junior Coaches untersucht. Drei internationale Seminare mit Projektmanagern und Trainern (die in der Ausbildung der Junior Coaches eingesetzt wurden) aus allen Partnerländern und nationale Round-Tables konstituierten ein Reflexionsrahmen, der den Austausch von Good Practice sowie Evaluation und Weiterentwicklung der konkreten Bildungsaktivitäten in diesem Projekt vorantrieb.

Die Partnerorganisationen aus den Niederlanden und Deutschland, die bereits im Vorläuferprojekt „The ROOTS & ROUTES Academy“ Junior Coaches ausgebildet hatten, haben diese Junior Coaches in die Entwicklung weiterführender Trainingsmodule eingebunden und dabei ihre Bedürfnisse und Ideen ebenso berücksichtigt wie die Anforderungen des einschlägigen Arbeitsmarkts. Diese Module wurden dann im ersten Projektjahr national durchgeführt, mit 6+ Teilnehmenden und insgesamt 12+ Seminartagen pro Land.

Zusätzlich wurden praktische Module („Testing Zones“) entwickelt und erprobt; hier haben 6+ Junior Coaches pro Modul ihre Skills einem Praxistest in Schul- oder Jugendarbeitskonzext ausgesetzt, wobei sie teils von Trainern begleitet wurden, sich teils via Peer Monitoring einander Feedback gaben.

Währenddessen haben die italienischen, griechischen und ungarischen Partner ihre ersten Akademien für Junior Coaches durchgeführt (12+ Seminartage, 9+ nationale Teilnehmende) und dabei das „ROOTS & ROUTES Academy“-Curriculum an ihre nationalen Situationen angepasst.

Im zweiten Projektjahr überarbeiteten die Partner gemeinsam das Curriculum, auf Basis der Erfahrungen aus den in Rotterdam und Köln entwickelten weiterführenden Trainingsmodulen und aus den Akademien des ersten Projektjahrs in Larisa, Florenz und Budapest. Alle Partner führten 2014 nationale Junior Coach Academies auf Basis des runderneuerten Curriculums durch. Desweiteren wurden weiterführende Module nun international erprobt: Griechenland, Ungarn und Italien boten kurze internationale weiterführende Trainingsseminare für je zwei Absolventen der Junior Coach Academies aus jedem Partnerland an. Deutschland, die Niederlande und Italien organisierten internationale Testing Zones, zu denen ein_e Teilnehmer_in pro Partnerland eingeladen wird.

Über die Projektlaufzeit entwickelten die Partner gemeinsam konzeptuelle Überlegungen für ein Beratungs- und Vermittlungsnetzwerk in Anlehnung an das von den niederländischen Partnern entwickelten „ROOTS & ROUTES Impresariaat“ (www.rnragency.eu). Auch auf eine nachhaltige Implementierung des ROOTS & ROUTES Peer Coach Curriculums in den Partnerländern wurde hingearbeitet.

Das Projekt endete mit einer Europäischen Konferenz am 26.09.2014 in Rotterdam/Niederlande, zu der alle Projektpartner und ausgewählte Vertreter von Bildungseinrichtungen und Akteure der Kreativwirtschaft eingeladen wurden. Die wesentlichen Projektresultate, insbesondere das ROOTS & ROUTES Peer Coach Curriculum, wurden kostenfrei online verfügbar gemacht und verbreitet. Die Partner im Konsortium und im weiteren ROOTS & ROUTES Netzwerk werden weiterhin in neuen Projekten kooperieren, wie etwa im Ende 2014 gestarteten Projekt “Routes to Employment” (ERASMUS+).

Produkt 'ROOTS & ROUTES Steps Ahead Research Report'

Titel:	ROOTS & ROUTES Steps Ahead Research Report
Produkttyp:	andere
Marketing Text:	Business skills are needed to successfully make a living, attract investors and potentially expand their business. Many new artists lack the skills needed to develop a business proposal to a stage where it is ready to attract external investors'. R&R talents need to gain awareness of the transferability of their skills if they have an interest in business entrepreneurship. The EC Green Paper on the potential of CCIs therefore stresses the need to better match the skills needs of CCIs by allowing for continuous training initiatives as well promoting the mobility of artists. Life Long Learning mechanisms can be provided for such continuous learning schemes and could be deployed on demand by the entrepreneur.

Produkt 'ROOTS & ROUTES Peer Coach Curriculum'

Titel: ROOTS & ROUTES Peer Coach Curriculum

Produkttyp: Programme/Curricula

Marketing Text: To be a young artist in present times is no small feat. It offers both tremendous challenges and great opportunities. Increasing mobility and a rapidly changing society offer chances for artistic development as well as challenges: Financial stability is not a given in the artistic work field.

That said, the rewards from coaching a new generation of young artists are great. ROOTS & ROUTES partners across Europe have met with young artists in the field of performing arts and media who wanted to learn how to coach others in their field. They feel that they have something to offer, as well as to gain: To offer they have the knowledge and skills that they have acquired so far. To gain they have an (additional) means of gaining financial independence with what they know and do best: practicing their art, and passing it on to others.

With this curriculum we want to equip young artists with some of the tools they will certainly use during the journey up ahead.

Beschreibung: The ROOTS & ROUTES Peer Coach Curriculum has three main parts:

Part I offers a basic introduction into the peer coaching approach and discusses requirements for running a peer coach training/ academy.

Part II outlines the competencies required by peer coaches in performing arts and media. Modules focusing on these competencies are described, with concrete methods, requirements and recommendations. This is structured by four fields of competency:
1. Artistic and media competencies for coaches
2. Pedagogical/ teaching/ coaching competencies
3. Entrepreneurial competencies
4. Reflective, cross-sectoral and lifelong learning competencies

Zielgruppe: Training managers / educational programmers and trainers / senior coaches. Educational and youth work policy makers.

Resultat: PDF file, 100 pages, English language.

Anwendungsbereich: Training of junior coaches / peer coaches in the field of performing arts and media.

Final Conference “Transnational entrepreneurship and young artists”

Datum	26.09.2014
Beschreibung	80+ participants from 8 EU member states joined the international ROOTS & ROUTES conference on September 26th, 2014. The presentations and discussions all concluded that more entrepreneurial support is needed for young artists. In their studies as well as in the first stage of their professionals careers. Mentors, management support and introduction to professional networks were essential points addressed. It was concluded that the international ROOTS & ROUTES will have to concentrate on these points more in the future and where possible to establish strategic alliances with other organizations.

International Testing Zone Germany 2014

Datum	15.08.2014
Beschreibung	The Testing Zone “ROOTS & ROUTES Step 1” ran at the youth center Luckys Haus. Luckys Haus is located at Bilderstöckchen, a multicultural neighbourhood in the North-Western part of Cologne. It’s a quite big house with a well-equipped music recording studio, a arts workshop that can be used as media room plus a gym room and a disco room with mirrors both suitable for dance. At the ROOTS & ROUTES Step 1 workshop week, participants mainly worked in workshops split by disciplines. Musicians created and recorded songs, dancers rehearsed and created choreographies, media makers made documentaries of the other workshop and a music video. The international junior coaches worked in teams with German coaches. Janna Hadler was the main project manager and contact person for the international participants, she also monitored the coaching activities and chaired the daily feedback sessions.
Zielgruppe	Junior Coaches from the five “Steps Ahead” partner countries. Good communicators (broken English + bodylanguage), able to work with diverse groups of young people. Musicians, dancers and media makers preferred. Comic/Graffiti artists also possible.

The Artstudio is a new complex, with several music studios, dance and multifunctional rooms and a large room for performances. Hoogvliet has a lot of (talented) youth but there are not that many activities for them. 6 different workshops were run by a total of 12 Junior Coaches. Their target group were urban young people from 10 to 22 years. On the last full day (July 25th) there was a public final presentation.
Zielgruppe	Junior Coaches from the five “Steps Ahead” partner countries.

International Testing Zone Italy 2014

Datum 05.07.2014

Beschreibung The international Testing Zone was carried out in the frame of Inequilibrio, a well known international festival of contemporary performing arts organised by Armunia in a village close to Livorno, on the west coast of Tuscany. In another nearby village, Cecina, the Artimbanco School of Theatre is running since some years the project Officine Dioniso, under the guidance, among others, of Caterina Poggesi and Cesare Torricelli: within a well-established educational programme in the field of performing arts, a group of about 20 youngsters aged 14-20 is now continuing this experience in a horizontal, almost independent peer education approach.

The international Junior Coaches tested their coaching skills in this situation, monitored by the senior facilitators.

Activities included:
• a practical, physical part also in small groups
• a constant platform for discussion, in relation to the performances attended during the Festival
• the design of the final site-specific performance

Every day had 8 working hours, including:
• a specific warming up, guided each time by a different Junior Coach but addressed to the whole group
• an in-depth analysis in small groups, according to the participants' personal disposition
• a final plenary dedicated to harmonise the work and design the performance.

The multidisciplinary approach of the context and of the group provided an optimal frame for evaluating fieldwork in different cultural settings. The group had the possibility to work in a concrete situation, in relation to both the coaching and the artistic process, and to realise the final event in terms of concept, organisation, presentation.

Zielgruppe Junior Coaches from the five "Steps Ahead" partner countries. Experienced and/or interested in cross-disciplinary art practice and site-specific work; no need for technical equipment.

Datum	10.03.2014
Beschreibung	The training implementation at the Greek Junior Coach Academy 2014 was based on experiential methodology (metacognitive pedagogical approach). Emphasis was placed on knowledge, skills and attitudes already held by the participants and the educational process was directly related to their lived experiences and interpretation's competences. The various thematic issues (Communication, Organisational Leadership, Entrepreneurship, Group Dynamics, etc) were structured as an opportunity for interactive dialogue, activation and learning by doing. For the artistic sessions, the participants were invited to take initiatives (i.e. warming up games were coordinated by the 1st Academy Peer Coaches and the participants), to improvise and experiment with their artistic skills. In order to be developed in several dimensions of art and creativity by doing, they had to visualize, plan, create and perform several short music-theatre plays till the end of the training.

Beschreibung From March 8 to 16, 2014, at Exfila connessioni metropolitane of Florence in collaboration with Arci Firenze, the second intensive academy of the Steps Ahead project involved ten young artists active in dance, theatre, music, visual arts and media, with vocation to non-formal educational practices.

The academy, under the artistic and educational coordination of Pietro Gaglianò and Caterina Poggesi, was structured in form of semi-residency for 9 consecutive days, from 10 am to 9 pm: a total of 80 hours of activities with Italian and foreign coaches and facilitators, including master classes, technical seminars, evaluation and question time, and a “lounge time” for mutual confrontation and free activities scheduled every day at 7 pm. This “lounge zone” was especially aimed at enhancing a better organization of the time dedicated to the “drafts”, the participants’ individual projects, and at increasing opportunities for dialogue, individual advice, in-depth analysis.

One afternoon, the participants also had the opportunity to come in touch with a concrete case of successful peer coaching activity, by visiting the exhibition realized at SRISA Santa Reparata International School of Arts by a group of Junior Coaches in the framework of the project http://www.u-care.org.

The entire pathway was intended to share the role of the coach as an educator in terms of responsibility, professional ethics and method, and at the same time as an artist in terms of language, design and attitude. Practical experiences were provided, aimed at awakening a certain predisposition to build one’s own autonomous professional path, opening up mental windows, rather than giving functional recipes or ready-made tools, with a view to facilitating processes, to the relationship between process and outcome, community and individual, art and learning, formats and contents.

Zielgruppe Young dancers, musicians and media makers aged 18 to 35 planning to become Junior Coaches.

Beschreibung	The Steps Ahead Junior Coach Academy Hungary 2014 contained training sessions, courses for young dancers, media – workers, musicians and artists, in order for them to become professional workshop leaders. The main emphasis was to deepen self awareness through teaching, and to gain self-conscious knowledge. Furthermore, the acquisition of business, marketing and leadership skills were also essential parts of this course, these expertises helped our participants to be able to manage themselves in the working world in the best possible way. The aim of the course was to allow obtaining the knowledge and skill development which are necessary to lead coaching/workshop sessions. The training occasions are approaching the subject from a partly pedagogical, psychological, and on the other hand artistical (art-coaching) aspect. During the programme, the participants got the chance to do practical work where they could try themselves. They were also enabled to process the practical experiences together during these training sessions, giving each other feedback and receiving guidance and instructions from the trainers.
