Invitation to IMPAECT Concluding Conference

A European Approach to Intercultural Education and Inclusion in Vocational and Higher Education of Future Staff in Early Education and Care

Hochschule München / Munich University of Applied Sciences

Tuesday May 22, 2012

9 am – 4.30 pm

The LLP TOI project IMPAECT –

Intercultural Education by Means of Partners working on ECVET principles – throws a spotlight onto early childhood education and care (ECEC). It deals with job requirements concerning intercultural education in early years to raise standards of education in day-care facilities. In IMPAECT a research based comparative approach towards intercultural education has been taken in the first year of the project. Based on this, a unit of learning outcomes has been designed for the education of future day-care personnel reaching from practical nurses to kindergarten teachers (BA).

A second issue of IMPAECT is to implement ECVET principles in parts of the education of future kindergarten staff. Besides the unit of learning outcomes, an on-the-job-training for teachers and tutors has been designed. Furthermore a tool box for successful internship and full validation and recognition of students learning outcomes in the sending institution has been developed. Both, on-the-job-training and toolbox have been tested and evaluated in the second year of the project.

These results are delivered by a partner consortium consisting of 15 partners from five countries that spreads its network from the North to the South of Europe. Partners are vocational institutes, day-care-centres, employers, colleges, universities and ministry institutes. Munich University is in charge of the international co-ordination of the project. The consortium is delighted to present IMPAECT results and share gained experience and expertise with scholars, students, experts, policy-makers, institutions and stakeholders interested in these topics. For these reasons Munich University, Faculty 11 launches the
