

Mobile learning:

Learning is in your hands

mTransition is the new face of mobile learning – putting learners and teachers in direct contact through smartphones and tablets via an app that manages eILPs (electronic Individual Learning Plans).

Learners can converse via instant messaging; teachers can track progress and set targets for learners to respond to, enhancing engagement.

Mobile technology is used to deliver remote learning and provide support through mobile devices to enhance basic skills, helping learners achieve their qualifications and improve their chances of securing employment

The mobile app and online portal is an individual learning planning (eILP) tool built on a real time communications infrastructure. The app supports the functionality for:

- multiple parties to discuss and negotiate each element of a learner's plan;
- learners to record their progress against their plan and upload salient evidence;
- tutors and learners to agree and record whether targets have been met.

www.mtransition.eu

The mTransition initiative is funded through the Leonardo da Vinci LifeLong Learning Programme and aims to support Vocational Education and Training learners across Europe with support through an innovative learning mobile App.

Learning happens... when people feel good

Learner and tutor discuss learning needs, identify targets and produce a learning plan	The tutor creates an electronic version of the learning plan using the portal interface	The learner works towards their targets and update their learning plan via the app

Pilot phase of the App

Pembrokeshire College has successfully completed a pilot of the App working with a group of 14 young school-leavers to help them take more control of their learning and progress to college. Feedback was very positive with all learners achieving targets set up on eILPs. They also benefited from realizing that they can use their hand-held devices – phones and tablets – for learning as well as socializing.

Learner Feedback:

'The App was great and easy to use'

'The App made learning more fun and enjoyable and interesting'

'I enjoyed doing the targets the tutors set – I would like to carry on using the App'

For further details, to make contact, follow our blog and keep up-to-date with the mTransition project see our website: www.mtransition.eu

European collaboration

The project is being carried out by a consortium of experts from five countries (BE, IE, IT, NL, UK) including educational institutions, dissemination and research organizations and an internationally recognized centre of excellence for ICT research.

All partners have experience of transnational European projects in the field of Vocational Education and Training and perform key roles in their own countries in supporting the provision of Lifelong Learning activities.