Please could you give us a comment concerning the previous answer, if you think that the Matrix does not represent typical work processes of the respective field?
I suggest the following changes in the Purchase, management of costs and stocks Unit of learning: 1.1.1 he is able to identify the products to be placed in the pantry. 1.1.2 he is able to identify the method of storage of frozen food. 1.1.3 he is able to identify the mode of storage of chilled foods (separate storage: meats, fruits and vegetables). 1.1.4 he is able to apply the hygienic regulations, such as correct storage, FIFO system, etc. (HACCP). 1.1.5 he is able to collaborate in the control of documentation and products with regard to the type, quantity and traceability, based on the rules of purchase 1.1.6 he is able to implement the rules for workplace safety.

Do you think that the Matrix could be useful to map and define available skills and competences of future employees and/or students coming from abroad?
Perfectly fitting to the scope
Quite useful, with some limits	X
Partially useful
Not at all

Control points are quite comprehensive to define the skills that a professional chef must have. They are certainly very far for a boy / girl that has' just graduated or otherwise obtained the professional certificate.

It is surely missing the section relating to professional ethics and behavior in the kitchen. It will be better to increase the evidence of skills related to hygienic health and safety at work as:

- cleaning and tidying the kitchen
- procedures for sanitizing equipment and kitchen

Thank you for your cooperation!
