First evaluation results of the pilot test

In the past few weeks the RSI partners have been working on the RSI pilot test. Students, teachers and companies were asked to give their opinion on the RSI website and concept. The first results are very positive. For the moment, more than 90% of the respondents indicate that they are satisfied with the information provided on the website, that they think the site is well situated to the user and that they like the design. This means that in the first instance the RSI concept and website is highly valued. The evaluation report of the pilot test will be available soon.
