

BOND project' products

The Pedagogical Training for Trainers Methodology (PTTM) has been adapted to national contexts and subsequently implemented on national pilot trials. The BOND Toolboxes has been tested during these training sessions. All BOND project products have been developed to better reach the necessities of the final beneficiaries and users. Ensuring a wide dissemination and adoption of the BOND innovative methodology has been also a priority for the partners. VET teachers, trainers and educators -as well as managers, policy makers and other interested stakeholders- can now make use of the main products of the project: Status Report on Pedagogical Needs, EQF and ECVET BOND Profile, Pedagogical Training of Trainers Training Referential and BOND Toolboxes. Please visit our website or contact the project partners for further information about the products.

Final conference in Viladecans, Barcelona

STP group hosted the Final Dissemination Conference held in Viladecans, Barcelona, on July 8th. The title of the conference was: "The quality of education, the centre-piece for success in the new professional environment". Local authorities, HR Directors of Multinationals (like Unilever), VET experts and researchers, together with the project partners, discussed about the key role of VET and the quality of training provision in professional environments. The project partners presented also the results and innovative methodologies of the project BOND to a wide audience of VET experts, teachers, employers and responsible of HR management.

Dissemination and exploitation

During the last phase of the project, the partners are intensifying the Dissemination and Exploitation activities. Multiplier initiatives and meetings with relevant stakeholders and policy makers are conducted in order to provide wide access and interest on the project products and mainstream the project results, both in the partners countries and at European level. Organizations and professionals interested on the project results can contact us at:

www.bond-project.eu