B2 company a trustworthy partner

B2 company is a leading Slovene company in the field of e-learning, computer trainings, software, system solutions and formal education. The company's mission is to help people to increase their productivity, competitiveness and satisfaction by means of information and communication technologies (ICT).

Our slogan is Knowledge for success. Conclusive evidence of our quality and expertise is our Microsoft Gold Certified Partner title and ISO 9001 certificate.

We strongly believe and work towards building secure, strong and stable relationships with our customers, partners as also amongst B2 company employees.

References

In Slovenia there are many companies and organizations that are already successfully educating their employees with the use of our eCampus® e-learning platform. And we have also performed many e-courses for companies that do not have an e-learning environment set out. The contents of these performed e-courses consisted of already prepared e-content or we helped them to create their own e-content in various fields and in different languages (e.g. medicine, IT security, human relationships, border customs skills, etc.).

In the 18 years of our existence more than 64.000 people participated in our computer courses. Many people have obtained a higher degree of formal education through our education center college, which uses methods of distance learning. Besides that we have also helped provide many Slovene companies and successful organizations with system and software solutions.

International multimedia award

The B2 company's web portal www.spletno-ucenje.com powered by eCampus® was awarded twice by the GPI (i.e. Gesellschaft für Pädagogik und Information). It received the international Comenius-EduMedia-Award in 2006 and 2007, in the category of the best multimedia educational products.

Experience with EU projects

Our first experience with an EU project was Phare 2003, a project designed to improve computer literacy amongst the unemployed. We are proud to be able to announce that we helped 615 unemployed people acquire knowledge with the use of blended learning and 374 of them obtained ECDL certificate, which proves their competence in computer use.

Since then we have participated in other EU projects as an applicant organization, as a partner or as a subcontractor. In these projects we provided the use of our platform, customized LMS platforms, delivered e-courses, developed e-content and multimedia, implemented our experience based "know-how" into e-didactics and training for e-learning stakeholders (trainers, managers, developers).

Partnership with B2 company

In B2 company we believe, that participating in projects improves expertise and expands experiences; this is why we look forward to collaborating with companies, institutions and organizations.

We are open to collaboration with various companies, institutions and organizations that are also interested in our areas of work. So we welcome you to view the list below, to see if there is an area, where our interests could meet.
