What we are going to do?

Together we aim to develop a complex Web site in English and partners languages and a virtual health educational center.

The E-learning health education center will provide on-line education and training materials, by an interactive lifelong learning platform.

2 interactive training modules in ultrasound and nurses education and a module addressed to patients aiming to improve health culture (general presentation of each disease from other training modules) will be developed. A glossary for medical terms will help in understanding specific issues.
