Type of Meeting: Dissemination Workshop for youth-at-risk

Date: 16 September, 2012

Place: Kaunas, Lithuania

The dissemination event of the DLQ project took place on 16th of September, 2012, in Kaunas, Lithuania, where the project was introduced to youth of one Kaunas school. 10 young participants gathered to hear about the project they were keen on taking part in.

Project manager Laura Pekiene presented the DLQ project, the overall aims of the project. After a short standard presentation explaining the essence of the project the Embedded and Enquiry-Based Learning Key Competence Curriculum was presented. The youngsters were told what exactly they will have to do while taking part in the project and what results they will have to achieve as well as the impact the participancy in this project might have on their future careers.

After looking through the material given to them a discussion about the filming and the timing left for implementing the Curriculum was raised. The youth was very much concerned about the timeframe for the completion of the tasks.

The participants were enthusiastic about the project and expressed their willingness to participate in it. They got caught by the idea of becoming the directors of film making and were keen on exploring all the equipment presented to them.
